

SECURITY SCREENING

In light of the vacancy to which you responded, we would like to draw your special attention to the fact that prior to being employed by Belgocontrol, candidates have to undergo a security screening which will be carried out by the National Security Authority.

The description of such a security screening is pursuant to article 22e of the law of 11 December 1998 on classification and security clearances, certificates and advice.

You will have to express your agreement with this security screening and therefore, the candidates who will have successfully completed the selection process will be invited to give their written consent. You are free not to consent to a security screening. However, that will entail your elimination from the recruitment process.

According to legislation in force, only the successful candidates having obtained a positive security clearance as well as a favourable decision of the Directorate-General for Air Transport can be allowed to be employed by Belgocontrol.

It should be noted that a possibly negative security clearance may be appealed against within a period of eight days after its receipt by registered letter with the appeal body concerning security clearances, certificates and advice established Leuvenseweg 48, PO box 5, 1000 Brussels.